BILLING POLICY

- All invoices will be emailed to the client, after the appointment and payment is due within 3 days or it is considered Overdue.
 - Invoices are emailed through QuickBooks directly and need to be paid through the link on the email.
 - If you have money on account to cover the invoice you will still receive an emailed invoice for your appointment. The balance due will show a negative amount reflecting your remaining credit on account.
 - A valid credit card on account is mandatory before any training can start. Any time a credit card is used there will be a 3% processing fee added.
- The credit card put on file is NOT automatically charged for invoices unless you inform us to do so, or if the invoice is overdue*
- If you previously had money on account and receive an invoice email showing a balance due, it means you have exhausted your credit and now owe that amount.
 - Any invoices over 3 days past due can be charged to your card on file. We are not required to notify you additionally before charging your card for past due invoices.
 - All expenses incurred during lessons or trips are billed to the client.
 - Fuel purchased outside of AIA is to be paid by the client.
 - If fuel is purchased and you would like credit back, you must submit your receipt to tess@allinaviation.com including your full name. Reimbursement will be made on your invoice and fuel is reimbursed per gallon up to the current SS rate at KHND.
 - If sending a bank wire, an email to Tess including your full name and wire confirmation information is required.

GETTING STARTED

Take a flight!

There is no better way to see if aviation is right for you than to get up in the air with one of our highly trained CFIs for a discovery flight. This flight puts you at the controls and counts as logged hours towards your license.

Onboarding

You have taken your Discovery Flight and fell in LOVE! The next step is getting enrolled. Required documents needed before a second flight are as follows,

1. Drivers License
2. Passport, Proof of Citizenship or TSA approval
3. Medical Certificate (once completed)
4. Completed AIA Client Information Packet and Billing Document
5. Submitted Credit Card through secure link.

Get your medical

All pilots must pass an exam by an FAA approved AME before being able to fly solo. Although this can be completed at any time before your student solo, we recommend getting it done at the beginning of training to avoid any unknown issues. All In Aviation recommends Dr. Byer @ (702) 734-0017.

Purchase your Private Pilot Pack

Not sure what supplies you need to start training? We took care of the hard work for you! Stop by the Pilot Shop to purchase your Private Pilot Pack that includes all required training materials in one of our super cool All In Aviation backpacks.

Ground School

An online ground school course will be needed for your training. Based on what aircraft you are training in, we will be happy to direct you to the correct course. Additionally, All In Aviation frequently offers an intensive in person 3 day ground school for $599.
